

Jesus to St. Faustina on Spiritual Warfare: 25 Secrets

In Cracow-Pradnik, June 2, 1938, the Lord Jesus directed a young Polish Sister of Mercy on a three-day retreat. Faustina Kowalska painstakingly recorded Christ's instruction in her diary that is a mystical manual on prayer and Divine Mercy. These instructions became Faustina's weapon in fighting the good fight.

Jesus began, "My daughter, I want to teach you about spiritual warfare" (Paragraph 1760). (The Lord's words are in bold text; my comments follow.)

1. Never trust in yourself but abandon yourself totally to My will.

Trust is a spiritual weapon. Trust is part of the shield of faith that St. Paul mentions in chapter six of Ephesians: the armor of God. Abandonment to God's will is an act of trust; faith in action dispels evil spirits.

2. In desolation, darkness and various doubts, have recourse to Me and to your spiritual director. He will always answer you in My name.

In times of spiritual warfare, immediately pray to Jesus. Invoke His Holy Name that is feared in the netherworld. Bring darkness into the light by telling a spiritual director or confessor and follow his instruction.

3. Do not bargain with any temptation; lock yourself immediately in My Heart.

In the Garden of Eden, Eve bargained with the devil and lost. We have recourse to the refuge of the Sacred Heart. In running to Christ, we turn our backs on the demonic.

4. At the first opportunity, reveal the temptation to the confessor.

A good confession, a good confessor, and a good penitent are a recipe for victory over temptation and demonic oppression—without fail.

5. Put your self-love in the last place, so that it does not taint your deeds.

Self-love is natural but it should be ordered, free of pride. Humility defeats the devil that is perfect pride. Satan tempts us to disordered self-love to lead us into his pool of pride.

6. Bear with yourself with great patience.

Patience is a secret weapon that helps us to keep our peace of soul even in the great storms of life. Bearing with oneself is part of humility and trust. The devil tempts us to impatience, to turn against our selves so we become angry. See yourself from God's view. He is infinitely patient.

7. Do not neglect interior mortifications.

Scripture teaches that some demons can only be evicted by prayer and fasting. Interior mortifications are weapons of warfare. They can be small sacrifices offered with great love. The power of sacrificial love evicts the enemy.

8. Always justify to yourself the opinions of your superiors and of your confessor.

Christ is speaking to St. Faustina who lives in a convent. But we all have people in authority over us. The devil aims to divide and conquer, so humble obedience to authentic authority is a spiritual weapon.

9. Shun murmurers like a plague.

The tongue is a powerful vessel that can do great harm. Murmuring, gossiping is never of God. The devil is a liar who stirs up false accusations and gossip that can kill a person's reputation. Shun murmurers!

10. Let all act as they like; you are to act, as I want you to.

To mind one's own business is key in spiritual warfare. The devil is a busybody attempting to drag everyone down. Please God and let the opinions of others go by the wayside.

11. Observe the rule as faithfully as you can.

Jesus is referring to the rule of a Religious Order here. Most of us have made some vow before God and Church and we should be faithful our promises—i.e., marriage vows and baptismal vows. Satan tempts to infidelity, lawlessness and disobedience. Fidelity is a weapon for victory.

12. If someone causes you trouble, think what good you can do for the person who caused you to suffer.

Being a vessel of divine mercy is a weapon for good and for defeating evil. The devil is about hatred, rage, revenge, and unforgiveness. Others have hurt us all at some time. What good can we do in return? Returning a blessing breaks curses.

13. Do not pour out your feelings.

A talkative soul will more easily be attacked by the devil. Pour out your feelings to the Lord only. Remember, the good and evil spirits hear what you say aloud. Feelings are fleeting. Truth is the compass. Interior recollection is a spiritual armor.

14. Be silent when you are rebuked.

Most of us have been rebuked at some time. We have no control over that, but we can control our response. The need to be right all the time can lead into demonic traps.

God knows the truth. Let it go. Silence is a protection. The devil can use self-righteousness to trip us up also.

15. Do not ask everyone's opinion, but only the opinion of your confessor; be as frank and simple as a child with him.

Simplicity of life can drive out demons. Honesty is a weapon to defeat Satan, the Liar. When we lie, we put a foot in his camp and he will try to seduce us all the more.

16. Do not become discouraged by ingratitude.

No one likes to be taken for granted. But when we are met with ingratitude or insensitivity, the spirit of discouragement can weigh us down. Resist all discouragement, for it is never of God. It is one of the devil's most effective temptations. Gratitude in all things wins the day.

17. Do not examine with curiosity the roads down which I lead you.

The need to know, and curiosity about the future is a temptation that has led too many people into the backrooms of psychics, witches, etc. Choose to walk in faith. Decide to trust in God who leads you on the path to heaven. Resist the spirit of curiosity always.

18. When boredom and discouragement beat against your heart, run away from yourself and hide in My heart.

Jesus delivers the same message a second time. Now He refers to boredom. Earlier in the Diary He told St. Faustina that the devil most easily tempts idle souls. Beware of boredom, a spirit of lethargy, or acedia—the noonday devil. Idle souls are easy prey for demons. Be about the business of God.

19. Do not fear struggle; courage itself often intimidates temptations, and they dare not attack us.

Fear is the second most common tactic of the devil (pride is the first). Courage intimidates the devil—he will flee in the face of persevering courage that stands on Jesus, the rock. All people struggle, God is our provision.

20. Always fight with the deep conviction that I am with you.

Jesus instructs a Sister in a convent to “fight” with conviction. She can do so because Christ accompanies her. Christians are called to fight with conviction against all demonic tactics. The devil tries to terrorize souls, demonic terrorism—resist! Invoke the Holy Spirit throughout the day.

21. Do not be guided by feeling, because it is not always under your control; but all merit lies in the will.

All merit lies in the will because love is an act of the will. We are completely free in Christ. We must make a choice, a decision for good or evil. What camp do we live in?

22. Always depend upon your superiors, even in the smallest things.

Christ is instructing a Religious here. But, we all have the Lord as our Superior. Dependence upon God is a weapon of spiritual warfare because we cannot win on our own. Proclaiming Christ's victory over evil is part of intentional discipleship. Christ came to defeat death and evil. Proclaim Him!

23. I will not delude you with prospects of peace and consolations; on the contrary, prepare for great battles.

St. Faustina suffered physically and spiritually. She was prepared for great battles by the grace of God who upheld her. Christ clearly instructs us in scripture to be prepared for great battles, to put on God's armor and resist the devil. Be vigilant and discerning always.

24. Know that you are on a great stage where all heaven and earth are watching you.

We are all on a great stage where heaven and earth are watching. What message is our life giving? What radiates from us—shades of light, darkness or grey? The way we live attracts more light or more darkness. If the devil does not succeed in pulling us into darkness, he tries to keep us in the category of the lukewarm, which is not pleasing to God.

25. Fight like a knight, so I can reward you. Do not be unduly fearful, because you are not alone.

The Lord's words to St. Faustina can become our mantra: Fight like a knight! A knight for Christ knows well the cause that he fights for, the nobility of his mission, the King who he serves, and with blessed assuredness of the victory, he fights to the end, even at the cost of his life. If a young, uneducated, simple Polish nun, united to Christ, can fight like a knight, every Christian can do the same. Trust is victorious.

Quick Apologetics (Defending Your Faith)— Salvation

There are some Christians who live by the motto: “Once saved, always saved.” Is this motto true? If I accepted Jesus as my Lord and Savior 10 years ago, am I still saved? After all, John 10:28 says: “No one can take my sheep out of my hand.” We need to know the whole Bible before giving answers too quickly. Let’s think about this. First, all of us have a free will, and we can choose to accept or reject Jesus each day. Second, we know that faith is a free gift from God, and we can lose it if we are not careful. Paul states in 1 Timothy 1:18-19: “This charge I commit to you, Timothy, my son, in accordance with the prophetic utterances which pointed to you, that inspired by them you may wage the good warfare, holding faith and a good conscience. By rejecting conscience, certain persons have made shipwreck of their faith.”

Our Church (headed by Jesus) teaches that our eternal destiny depends on the state of our soul at the time of our death. Did we love God and our neighbor? Was Jesus our best friend? The bottom line is that we need to persevere in our faith every day; we are not saved once and then we get slothful about our faith. We work with the Lord every day, relying on His graces. Matthew 24:13 states: “But he who endures to the end will be saved.”

Wrapping up the four pillars of MTYR. We have learned how important it is to be an outward light of God’s love in our community in how we treat others. We have learned that through the Holy Spirit, God has equipped us for the mission He has given each one of us: through our talents, fruits and treasures. We have learned to be a great witness in the world by meeting people where they are in their journey of life. Be kind, joyful, make them want what you have in Christ. We have learned the importance of going to Mass, going to Confession and praying daily. We have learned how to look inwardly at our fruits and talents given by the Holy Spirit to enable us to free up our priests. All of this put together shows us that through God we are More Than We Realize. This is MTYR.

The Archdiocese is taking the next step in helping us recognize what God is doing in the Church and to help those outside see it also. I encourage you to see the following video and share it with your friends. With recent reminders of how some in the Church have failed to live as Christ desires, it is good to remember that God has formed a beautiful and powerful force for good in the world. ## Wisdom of The Dialogue of St. Catherine

Summary of Chapter 6. God the Father says: “[E]very virtue of yours and every vice is put into action by means of your neighbors.” “[H]elp them spiritually with prayer and counsel.” “If you do not love Me, you do not love your neighbors, nor will you help those you do not love. But it is yourself you harm most, because you deprive yourself of grace.”

“Sin is both in the mind and in the act.” The role of the devil is to drag others from virtue and lead them to vice. None of us should act like the devil.

An inflated ego leads one to despise others, and less likely to pray for others. [Pray for the spiritually dead.]
